

VETERINARIAN— The Other Family Doctor!

We thank you for your decision to adopt a life-long companion. This decision comes with a list of responsibilities that you, as a new Pet Family, need to know. The first and foremost of these decisions is IMMEDIATELY establishing a relationship with a veterinarian in your residential area.

Your new companion has experienced a stressful and arduous few days. He or she has been vaccinated, surgically altered, adopted to a new home, and exposed to a large population of other residents. This includes the possibility of parasite and contagious disease exposure. Though every measure is done to promote a healthy environment and reduce stress, there are still a lot of unknowns, and it requires you to take immediate responsibility in providing preventable health care for your new pet.

There are over 40 veterinary clinics (approximately 100 individual veterinarians) who serve the El Paso city and county proper. These are your experts in animal health and welfare who reach out to you with the latest and most progressive surgical, medical, dental, nutritional, and behavioral care options. Inside this brochure you will find the veterinary clinics alphabetically listed in each of their regional locations. Under each clinic name are abbreviations declaring the various groups of animals the doctors in that clinic will see (eg. SA—Small Animals, LA—Large Animals, EX—Exotics). Since the exotic category of pets covers multiple classes of animals (avian, reptile, rodent, ferret, etc.) we suggest you call the clinic of choice to assure they treat your specific pet.

REMEMBER:

- All puppies and kittens require a series of vaccinations from 6 weeks to 20 weeks of age.
- The microchip, rabies immunizations and annual registration are required by law.
- Most important—
“Owning a pet is a lifetime responsibility.”

See the back panel for a simple Pet Check List for your new companion.
